WHEREAS, the Freshwater Land Trust is a local 501(c) (3) land conservation organization and acting sponsor of the Five Mile Creek Greenway Improvement Cooperative District (“District 1”). The District was established in 2010 with the primary objective of purchasing and developing a parcel of land along a former rail corridor to be used as a multi-use trail. The District is facilitated by the Freshwater Land Trust and is comprised of six mayoral directors representing municipalities in northern Jefferson County. The cities include Brookside, Center Point, Gardendale, Graysville, Fultondale and Tarrant;

WHEREAS, the Five Mile Creek Greenway is a proposed 16.5-mile multi-use greenway that will run from Graysville to Fultondale, with plans to extend into Tarrant. Gardendale, Brookside and Tarrant have already established trails and recreational sites that will ultimately feed into the Five Mile Creek Greenway. The purchase of the rail line is expected to be finalized in the summer or early fall of 2017. Following purchase, the construction is expected to begin in the winter of 2017 to 2018 and will include the creation of a gravel trail, cross walks and vehicle barriers to allow residents to begin using the greenway safely;

WHEREAS, this project aims to reshape and revitalize the region by transforming a remnant of the once prosperous industrial sector – an old railroad line – into a multi-use greenway that provides recreational opportunities. Specifically, this trail will serve the residents of eight cities within a five mile radius of the trail; including Adamsville, Birmingham, Center Point, Gardendale, Graysville, Fultondale and Tarrant. However, this trail is expected to be used by residents throughout Jefferson County. The trail is expected to spur significant economic benefits to these cities as studies have shown that properties located close to trails sell for 4-7% more than similar homes located elsewhere and trails create recreation-related revenue by creating opportunities to sell/rent recreational goods and equipment, creating new business. The trail will also encourage healthy lifestyles, tourism income and provide buffers to 29 miles of intermittent and perennial streams;

WHEREAS, the total purchase price for the project is $1,219,800.00. In recent years, collaborations to promote, develop and maintain greenways, parks, trails and points of interest along the Five Mile Creek Corridor between the District and its partners have provided numerous donations and in-kind services;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED BY THE JEFFERSON COUNTY COMMISSION, that the President be authorized to execute a grant to the Freshwater Land Trust in the amount of $22,346.52 from the Economic Development
Fund for the purpose of completion of the improvement cooperative district for the Five Mile Creek Greenway for the furtherance of economic development and quality of life in Jefferson County.
